

Meaning matters

Niveau d'étude
Master 2

ECTS
3 crédits

Volume horaire
24h

Période de l'année
Semestre 1

Présentation

DESCRIPTION

The aim of the seminar is to make students familiar with contemporary research on topics in semantics and pragmatics, and the interfaces with other fields. This course offers an opportunity to further one's knowledge of the discipline, and to test and apply one's skills on real data. The specific content varies each year.

OBJECTIFS

On successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

- read and comment contemporary literature on semantics and pragmatics in theoretical linguistics and psycholinguistics.
- contribute to original research in the domain of semantics and pragmatics.
- assess critically research proposals

HEURES D'ENSEIGNEMENT

Meaning matters	Cours Magistral	12h
Meaning matters	Travaux Dirigés	12h

PRÉ-REQUIS OBLIGATOIRES

Knowledge of theoretical semantics and pragmatics is required, as provided e.g., by the S2 class "semantic analysis"

Pour en savoir plus, rendez-vous sur > u-paris.fr/choisir-sa-formation